THE FIGURE-HEAD.

For the Boston Morning Post.
Lowell, July 29th, 1835.

Mr Greene—I sent the communication accompanying this note to the editor of the Boston Courier. By a paragraph in his paper of this morning I perceive he refuses to publish it on account of its length. I cannot consent to measure my notions of what is necessary to my justification by Mr Buckingham's notions of "space." Will you have the goodness to place before the public my reply to charges of falsehood, and enable me to obtain that justice which is denied where those charges were made, And much oblige
Your ob't servant,
CHAS. H. LOCKE.

Mr Buckingham—I must beg of you the favor to insert the following remarks in the Courier:—

Preliminary to any observations upon the letters of the two Capt's Rich, and of Col. Amory, I wish to state a few things merely personal to myself; and I think it may be done, without drawing down censure for egotism. Taking the whole matter together, I am charged with falsehood, and it is of some consequence to me to have an explanation fully upon record. This is my apology for troubling you and the public.

I shared in the feelings and prejudices of the community when the subject of the figure head first became a topic of conversation. Paragraphs were published in the paper of which I then had charge, which for their severity cost me the loss of subscribers among Jackson men; and no one was ready to go further in opposition to the figure or the Commodore. I considered it on his part a vile piece of "man-worship," and detested it as I thought it deserved. During the winter, I became acquainted with the Commodore, and had opportunities to learn from him and others the facts of the case, and also got an insight into his motives and feelings. I was satisfied that the community was doing him great injustice; and I thought that if they had access to the truth, they would return to the feelings of regard with which he was received, when he first took charge of the Navy Yard. He came among us with a most enviable reputation. He was spoken of in conversational language as the plain, bold, sailor—the blunt, honest old Commodore; and not a whisper of censure was heard in relation to his character and conduct.—After the affair of the figure head not a word of good was said of him. The most ignominious wretch is generally allowed some good traits, but the Commodore had none. Every act was an offence, because of some bad motive—every word was a lie, because of some hidden design. To this extent the prejudices of the people seemed to have gone. If he appeared at church or on 'change, it was bold effrontery to show his face in the midst of an insulted community. If he absented himself, it was construed into a silent confession of guilt; and in the course of a few months, a man who was hailed as an honor to the navy, was stripped, in the general report, of every good quality.

I thought the public mind was abused; and, so far as I had any influence, I labored zealously to convince those with whom I conversed, that they were doing injustice, from partial knowledge, to one whose motives had been good; and who, if all the facts were known, would not be severely censured. But it was nearly or quite impossible to induce men to separate in their minds the consideration of the act and the motive. The putting on of the figure-head I did then, and do now, condemn. I rejoiced then, and do now, in the cutting of it off. I feel a just pride that it was done in Boston—that the spirit of the good old times is yet left, and will break out upon proper occasions. But, and I say it under a solemn sense of responsibility, while I think and feel thus, I also think and feel that Commodore Elliott was not blameable in the matter. I declare my belief, that no one intelligent, firm, upright man in Boston, under the same circumstances, would have acted differently. I shall not give the reasons for this opinion, at present. But there I was in the daily habit of hearing remarks which, I fully believe, grossly calumniated a worthy and distinguished officer of the country. It is not in my nature to be silent upon such occasions; and I never forbore to speak as I thought of this matter. In consequence of my course, I was constantly subject to sneers, sarcasms and censures. Friends said they were sorry to see me undertake to defend such a man—acquaintances ridiculed, and partizans scolded at me. It seemed strange to some that, professing to be a whig, I could say a word in favor of any act of a member of the Jackson party; and however unimportant may be any opinion or saying of mine, it was of consequence enough to gain me plenty of abuse, from those who honored me with their conversation. Situated as I was, it will be allowed that I should be more likely to remember conversations accurately, than those who merely spoke a word at the moment and thought no more about it. So much for myself.

Towards Capt. John Rich my feelings are rather those of a brother, than a friend; and he cannot, I think, believe that I would wilfully misrepresent any thing that ever passed between us. I am sure, from my estimate of his character, that he would not misstate the slightest particular, knowingly. In regard to the remarks about the figure of Hercules, he is correct, so far as he goes—but when I declined answering his question "if I was satisfied," it was because I wanted further information. I was not satisfied as the questions and answers were then given—and upon subsequent inquiry it did turn out, as he will remember—that Mr Beecher had objected, in some form, to carve a figure of Hercules; for the reason, as I understood it, that it was an indefinite, fancy figure, upon which he could not work with so much satisfaction, or to so much advantage, as upon something better known and defined; and afterwards, when the Commodore ordered him to suspend work upon the figure of Jackson, and asked if he could turn it into a Hercules, he said it was too late, for he had already cut out the head and shoulders. This, however, is of little consequence.

The remark that the figure would not be allowed to go out of the harbor, was made several times both by myself and Capt Rich; and when I expressed a desire that all further difficulty and ill feeling might be saved on the subject, Capt Rich used these words—"I'll guarrantee that I'll find three merchants in half an hour who will pay the expense of any other figure head, if Commodore Elliott will have it put on." I am confident that these are the very words spoken by Capt. Rich. I do not say that he "made any guarantee." It was, as I then supposed, a strong way of saying, that the hostility of some of the merchants to the figure of Jackson on that ship was so great, that they would gladly pay for any other; and in that sense I reported it to the Commodore, that he might know what the real feeling was among the people of Boston. Capt. Rich surely must remember this, for Mr Beecher immediately added, "I'll carve any other figure, without charge, if the Commodore will have it put on."—I replied to both, that it was not in the Commodore's control. There are many other points fresh in my recollection, which I may state hereafter. It is sufficient to state, for the present, that I am positive in regard to these facts, and if Capt Rich does not find a record of them in his own memory, I am compelled to regret it—though I rejoice in his declaration that he "thinks I will not intentionally swerve." As to draging this subject before the public, it is no doing of mine.—Commodore Elliott felt it proper to sustain the assertions contained in a letter to the Secretary of the Navy which had been surreptitiously published; and called upon me, in general terms, to inform him what I remembered upon the subject. I first stated them to the Commodore, because I was commissioned by Mr Beecher to make an offer to carve another figure, and very naturally related the circumstances which led to the making of such an offer through me. If there was any thing improper in this I am unable to perceive it.

If I should express the esteem in which I hold the character of Col. Amory, both as a public officer and a man, it would seem to be adulation. While I know that no one can say I ever spoke of him but with approbation, I can also appeal to his own recollection for proof, that I am not hasty in taking steps to injure others. I am more apt, with a celebrated character, to get into trouble by endeavoring to do "good-natured actions." Here again, is a mere matter of recollection, and I am positive that mine is correct. Col. Amory admits "generally," (if I may use the word) the truth of what I reported. The only difference is in relation to the assertion which I attributed to him, of knowledge of a combination, &c. In the first place Col. Amory's remark was not made in the connexion he supposes. The conversation was upon a rumor, current at the time, that "the Commodore meant to take the ship out the harbor, with the head mutilated, in order to mortify and disgrace the Boston People." It was upon this that Col. Amory used the expression, "I know," and speaking of a "combination" and shooting off the head at the narrows, he repeated, as I most distinctly remember, and said, "I tell you upon honor I know it." I never have before expressed his observation so strongly as he made it, but only "stated generally." If Col. Amory does not recollect the language (and if he did I am confident he would admit it) he must at least acknowledge—as he has done—that he spoke often upon this subject under excitement; and I would ask, if, with positive remembrance, on my part, it is too much to ask him to concede, that he might have spoken in stronger terms than he intended or now remembers? I did not then understand by the expression, that he was a party to any "combination"—but only that from his intimate acquaintance with the most active and spirited men in Boston, and from his knowledge of their views and feelings in relation to the head, as well perhaps, as from declarations that he had heard, he felt warranted in saying that he knew, if the Commodore intended the supposed insult, that such would be the consequence,—I replied, that, that was a matter beyond the Commodore's control, and if any censure was deserved, it was by higher authorities.

Col. Amory is at a "loss to conceive why I should be in duty bound" to report this conversation to Commodore Elliot. It was truly familiar discourse, and I felt honored in being allowed to hold any share in it—but it was not confidential—a number of persons were present and listening, though I cannot now call to mind any one—and my duty to repeat it, arose from my relation at the time to the Commodore—being, as I was, honored with familiar, and confidential conversations with him, and having knowledge of the fact, as I supposed, that some people of Boston would oppose the passage of his ship under certain contingencies—it would most plainly have been unfriendly, not to say dishonorable in me to have withheld that knowledge from him. I should certainly have told Col. Amory of any similar intention, or rumor of any intention, to attack the Fire Department or the Chief Engineer. I regret this conflict with such men as Capt. John Rich and Col. Amory—whatever may be the result, they may rest assured of my high esteem and regard—but I know I am right and must stick to it.

The note of Capt. Benj. Rich stands on very different grounds, and I view it with very different feelings. If he knew what "assertions" were in my letter, he knew that every word so far as concerned him is true, and he is a bad man for denying it—it is charitable, however, to suppose, that his declaration, that "there is not one word of truth in any of the assertions" was made as incautiously as it was pompously. I have asserted, or so intimated, that it amounts to an assertion, four things concerning Benj. Rich:—

1st. That he did not hold the conversation with Mr. Beecher and myself.

4th. That he was "inveterate" against Commodore Elliott and the government. And that is the whole of my assertion or intimation concerning Capt. Benj. Rich. Does he mean, publicly, with his name, to deny that those assertions are untrue?

Capt John Rich's letter settles the first assertion. I do not pretend to be a wise enough child to know the fathers of other people; but I suppose, so far as town records on Cape Cod will go, with the testimony of such old women as yet remain, Capt John can be proved to be the nephew of Capt Benj.—at least he claims to be so called, and I don't think Capt Benj. will seriously deny him the right. I can show, if necessary, that Capt Benj. Rich is a "well known merchant," in the common sense of those words—that is, that he is much known, or known to many people. The words may be construed to mean favorably known, or creditably known—as I did not use them in that sense, I shall not undertake to maintain, that Capt Benj. Rich is a creditably known merchant; and he may have the full benefit of the denial that such an assertion would be true. If certificates are wanted to show that he was "inveterate," both against the Commodore and the government, they may be forthcoming—and the first should show, how he invited a gentleman to take a five dollar bill in his hand and go and see the part of the head that was cut off—and furthermore it should set forth the tenor of sundry things said in relation to the subject, and what the said Capt Benj. Rich said, both before and after the figure head was mutilated. I am not anxious, however, to go into the matter.

But I do call upon Capt Benj. Rich, as an intelligent man to examine and see, if in charging me with falsehood he has not published a falsehood himself; and if he has, I call upon him, again, as an honest and just man to say so, as publicly as he has made the allegation against me.

I trust I shall not be obliged to recur to this subject again. One thing will be apparent—Commodore Elliott was charged with having made untrue statements to the Secretary of the Navy. So far as those statements come from me, if there was any error, the fault was mine and is not chargeable to Commodore Elliot.

CHAS. H. LOCKE.

TO THE PUBLIC.—When a man undertakes to report a case in law, it is essentially necessary for the Court, the Parties and the Public, that the same should be truly reported; and that the reporter himself should be sufficiently versed in legal technicalities to enable him to comprehend the points in issue. In the case of Samuel Cole vs Williams, which has made such a formidable appearance in the public prints, and which has been said to contain such a mass of fraud and gross imposition, and so pronounced by the learned Judge, never was there one entered into a Court of Justice founded upon a more equitable right, and in which the plaintiff ought to have prevailed, and would have prevailed, had it not been for the unfortunate manner in which the account annexed to the will was made.

This account contained two distinct charges—the first was $1 50 for lodging and cash lent; the lodging was proved, but the cash not being shewn to a precise amount, tho' the witnesses swore that some was lent, the judge very properly rejected the claim, except for the lodging. The second was $9 per agreement,—this being erroneously set forth, was also rejected; but the demand was absolutely just, and according to the perfect understanding of the parties $4 was to be paid on the removal of the articles, from the ship; nay $7 if the plaintiff required it, and this was the offer of Williams, without a word being said on the part of Cole. Tho' at the first sight the $4 may seem exorbitant, yet if the parties actually make the agreement before the work is undertaken, it is binding when performed. But no man who ever kept a sailors' boarding house, or knows any thing about it, would ever say it was unreasonable.

The great expense he must be at to accommodate these men, and the hazard he runs of ever getting the money he advances, or the pay for the supplies afforded them, is well known to every landlord who has any dealings with seamen. It is but proper then that the reward should be in proportion to the risk. The balance of the above $9 was for cash lent, $5, this, (tho' fully and substantially proved by the plaintiff's witnesses) was not loaned till three weeks later than the time set forth; it could not therefore be a consideration for the allowance by the Judge: of course, for this reason, this was disallowed. There was nothing now remaining but to give the plaintiff something for his time, expense, and employment of a man and cart, in removing the articles. The Judge not satisfied with the special agreement, gave to the plaintiff a judgment for two dollars and costs—and thus ends this mighty action.—Where then is this outrageous fraud practised by Cole on Williams, and which extorted the indignant reprehension of the Judge? The plaintiff, like a thousand others, failed for want of sufficient proof and legal form, and not for any moral depravity as regards him. JUSTITIA.

PATENT ADHESIVE FELT, FOR COVERING SHIPS' BOTTOMS.

FAIRBANKS, LORING & CO. corner of Kilby and Milk street, respectfully give notice to Ship Owners, that they have on hand, and will be supplied from time to time with the PATENT ADHESIVE FELT, for covering Ships' bottoms. The utility of this article has been so fully tested by the Board of Commissioners of the United States Navy, that during the last year they purchased more than sixty thousand sheets, and have recently ordered fifty thousand sheets for the present year.

"This Felt affords a complete protection against the destructive effects of the worm, whilst, by its strength and flexibility, it also prevents leakage, whether arising by working of ships in stress of weather, by accident, or otherwise. It will prevent the corrosion of iron, by the effect of the copper on iron fastened ships, where the fastenings and heads of bolts are protected by a covering of it.

"There are many instances of ships in the East India and other services having the copper accidentally rubbed off, by which the worm has not only got through the wood, sheathing and tarred paper, but also through the plank, and occasioned leakage and damage, as well as laborious working at the pumps, and many other instances of leakage, occasioned by ships working in heavy gales. Against both of these, it is submitted a covering of the Patent Felt affords complete protection."

Samples of this Felt may be seen at several of the Insurance Offices, State street, at the Marine Railway, and also at our store, where testimonials of its utility may be seen, and directions for its application be had.

THE BOSTON MORNING POST.

FRIDAY, JULY 31, 1835.

MARTIN VAN BUREN—NO. 9.

The enquiry I have been pursuing in my last two numbers, presents itself in another form, perhaps less prominent, but not less important, as a guide to the judgment of the people. Mr. Van Buren has been charged with breaking up the union of his former republican friends and forming a vast party through the Western and Southern States to accomplish his ambitious purposes. To the ephemeral slanders that have emanated from the opposition papers—from some too, which it is admitted, once took their stand in the democratic ranks, the writer of these brief numbers will not reply. His purpose has been solely, as a New England man to present to those whom he is proud to consider—not his countrymen merely, but his immediate fellow-citizens, the history, character and principles of a man who has been since his appearance in public life the object of abuse—not this only—but what is often more injurious in forming a correct estimate of a public character, of one who has suffered from an honest misapprehension of his actions, principles and motives. As has been noticed in a former number, Mr. Van Buren can claim no revolutionary services. He was never a military man, and has fought no fortunate battles—he comes before the people as a civilian, as a statesman who has steadily risen to a high rank in the estimation of the people, by his own merits. I may be asked what is all this to the enquiry before us? I answer to have been a fortunate subscriber, in propria persona, to the Declaration of Independence, would have prevented so frivolous an insinuation (for it deserves no higher appellation) from ever being made. The single fact that years have passed since the era of this charge, and that during that time Mr. Van Buren has been rising, not only in the public esteem, considered as the great body of the republicans through the Union, but that he has uniformly enjoyed and does now possess the confidence of a great majority of the wisest and most able men in the nation in the republican ranks, is answer enough to this objection. In making this charge his adversaries are perhaps not aware that they are granting to him a degree of talents and mental sagacity that the honest truth of history—nay, that the ardent agency of panegyric would not give the ablest patriot of the Revolution. While in sifting the incidents of his life to find grains of depravity, they have not been able to bring particles enough to make what metalists call a loop, which they can hammer into a bar. His reputation has only been brightened by these efforts to soil it. To a careful observer of these attempts it will be obvious that he has risen in the public estimation from all these arts to impugn his fame and impeach his motives. I may ask if there is an honest republican in the Union, who will declare his belief that Mr. Van Buren, if elected to the Presidency, does not possess all that honorable ambition, which would stimulate him to bring his powerful talents, his rich experience in the principles of our republican institutions, and his intimate knowledge of the ablest statesmen of our country—I ask, is there one who does not believe that these high qualifications will be devoted to advance the best interests and prosperity of every section of the Union. LEON.

Friends of the People invariably the objects of general calumny.—Why is there so much obloquy cast upon certain individuals, against whom no particular accusation can be advanced? Take for instance Isaac Hill of New Hampshire. Why has this worthy individual suffered for so many years all the reproach that could be cast upon him by all the aristocrats of the land—a gentleman who is celebrated in the town of his residence for his liberality and sound morals, as his bitterest enemies are constrained to acknowledge? Why is all this obloquy thus heaped upon him in general terms? Because he is and always has been the friend of the people, because he is a supporter of equal rights and privileges, and the enemy of all monopolies and arbitrary distinctions. The rich man's party dare not ridicule the principles of democracy—they therefore ridicule democrats—they dare not speak against the people, whom it is their interest to secure, they therefore ridicule the friends of the people—hoping that the latter are so blind and so gullible that they cannot see through this artifice. By rendering the friends of the people odious they hope indirectly to render their principles odious likewise. Yes, fellow citizens, let any man boldly defend the true principles of democracy, and he immediately becomes the proscribed of all the aristocrats in the land, who are at the same time loud in their professions of patriotism. What individual ever suffered more calumny than the illustrious Jefferson in his life time? Even now certain individuals of patrician rank, delight in an opportunity of casting a slur upon his good name.

Snarling.—There is a class of men in the world who may be called snarlers; who are continually railing at the wickedness of man's nature, as if he himself was the author of his nature. The truth is, there is nothing really evil in the nature of man—and though the majority of men are more or less corrupt, they were made so by the defective system of education in which they were reared, or by the defective system of laws and government of which they are subjects. Why is it not as reasonable to complain of the defective laws of the material as of the defective laws of the moral world? The defect is not in nature's laws, but in the ability of the human mind to ascertain them. Let mankind be reared by a perfect system of education, and governed by a perfect system of laws, and they would all be virtuous, by necessity—by moral and political restraint, too powerful to be resisted.

The Exhibition of what is called a "Chinese Lady," at Washington Hall, is what would be termed in theatrical parlance, a great gag. A homely Indian squaw, with her feet cut off and her ancles stuck into a couple of turnips, would be as well worth looking at. Harrington's part of the performance is good, but he has got into poor company, and it would be as much to his credit to travel with the stuffed skin of a kitten with two heads.

Signs.—We shall soon be receiving election news from North Carolina, Alabama, Louisiana, Tennessee, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Rhode Island, in all of which States public officers are to be chosen during this month.

The Courier is raving as a "bug" about the statue of Cleopatra, now exhibiting at Harding's Gallery. It thinks it a high outrage that an Egyptian's color should be represented as similar to that of a "Pottawattami Squaw." Now we have always believed that the colors of the Egyptians and our Indians were similar—the latter, perhaps, having a little more of the "smoked salmon" hue about them, which our neighbor of the Gazette will not object to, if his cotemporary nearer State street does. The Courier thinks it impossible that any lady or gentleman should express gratification at a sight of the statue—we can inform the fastidious editor, however, that his political friend Nicholas Biddle, Mr Swift, the mayor of Philadelphia, and many other citizens of that city, of equal taste, discernment, and standing, expressed themselves highly gratified at a view of it, without discovering anything immodest in the exhibition. We leave it to the Courier to decide whether its friends are gentlemen or not. In New York it was generally admired, and was praised by Col. Stone until it left the city, when he gave the Courier the cue for an attack upon it. Professor Rhinelander considered it a very perfect and beautiful specimen of anatomy, and gave the proprietor a certificate to that effect, which was concurred in by Drs. Kissham, Stearns and others; in short, that the statue is an ingenious specimen of art, worthy of notice, is proved by the commendation it has received from many competent judges, who have examined it with patience and attention, and who did not merely, as was the case with the Editor of the Courier, enter the door of the room where it was, give it a single glance, turn and go out. The judgment of the Courier in this affair, is as superficial as his examination of the "thing" he denounces.

Abstinence.—Abstinence, in regard to food, is only for the sick—temperance for all. The former restores—the latter preserves health. Abstinence is penance—temperance is enjoyment. As sickness requires abstinence from food—health equally requires abstinence from medicine. The laws of our system require us to abstain while we are in health, from those articles which are needful when we are sick. Exercise is necessary when we are well—rest when we are ill. In the former case we require food, in the latter fasting. Medicine used by the healthy will cause sickness; and if medicine has destroyed the health, to what must we resort for relief. The diseases which are caused by medicine are generally incurable. The only rule for the healthy, is abstinence from all medicines or medicinal articles, and temperance in the use of food. While in the enjoyment of health the most temperate use of medicinal articles is the same as intemperance. At the same time abstinence, in regard to food, being excessive or injurious temperance, is equivalent to intemperance; because both are injurious to the health. He is not a temperate man who injures his constitution by a too free or by a too spare diet. Yet what would be abstinence for one person, would be temperance for another: and what would be temperance for one would be excess for another. The lively and ardent temperament may do very well with a very rigid diet, while the sluggish temperament would require a rich and stimulating diet. The former can endure the most abstinence, the latter the most luxury and excess. Most intemperate men are of a sluggish temperament. They require the constant stimulus of food or drink, to raise their mental and bodily energy up to the level of that of their acquaintance.

The New Jersey papers say that the season and the markets are both propitious to the farmer. Butter is selling at Trenton at from 20 to 25 cents per lb., and eggs the same per dozen.

The Providence Board of Aldermen charged Mr Lauriatt $52 for the privilege of making an ascension in that city—they license billiard tables for 200 or $300 a year.

A second theatre has been erected in Buffalo, N. Y. The town has been very prosperous ever since Mr Webster delivered his panic speech there.

The citizens of Natchez (Miss.) have driven, vi et armis, from that city, the notorious gamblers and blacklegs, with which it has abounded for several years past. On the evening of the 10th inst. a large mob assembled at a place called "Under the Hill," and routed the gamblers in toto; destroyed the tables, &c., then allowing them 24 hours to leave the city, and granting 48 hours to the females of the same notorious place to take their leave forever, otherwise their houses would be torn down about their ears, and themselves be compelled to leave the city. Several flat-boats (broad horns) freighted with these precious rascals, have proceeded down the Mississippi. This proceeding will not probably improve the moral atmosphere of New Orleans.—Merc.

Caution to Boys.—Patrick Quinn, a lad about 14 years of age, was seriously injured this morning in diving from the wharf near Craigies' bridge—his head struck against a sharp post in the water with such force, as to cause him to sink, and it was with great difficulty that he was rescued from drowning by his companions. When taken from the water, it was found that he had received a very bad wound over the right eye, which bled profusely, and caused the most acute pain to the unfortunate youth. Boys in the habit of bathing should be particularly cautious where they go, and not dive in places where they may not be perfectly safe.—Merc.

Origin of Paul Pry.—The idea of the character of Paul Pry was suggested by the following anecdote, related to me several years ago by a beloved friend. "An idle old lady, living in a narrow street, had passed so much of her time in watching the affairs of her neighbors, that she at length acquired the power of distinguishing the sound of every knocker within hearing. It happened that fell she ill, and was for several days confined to her bed. Unable to observe in person, what was going on without, as a substitute for the performance of that duty, she stationed her maid at the window. But Betty soon grew weary of the occupation; she became careless in her reports—impatient and tetchy when reprimanded for her negligence. 'Betty, what are you thinking about, don't you hear a double knock at No 9? Who is it?' 'The first-floor lodger, ma'am.' 'Betty! Betty! I declare I must give you warning. Why don't you tell me what that knock is at No 45?' 'Why Lord! ma'am, its only the baker with pies.' 'Pies, Betty! what can they want with pies at 45? they had pies yesterday!'" Of this very point I have availed myself. Let me add that Paul Pry was never intended as the representative of any one individual, but of a class. Like the melancholy of Jacques, he is "compounded of many simples;" and I could mention five or six who were unconscious contributors to the character. That it should have been so often, though erroneously, supposed to have been drawn after some particular person is, perhaps, complimentary to the general truth of the delineation.—Poole's Sketches and Recollections.

The Wheeling Gazette of the 22d inst. states, that the Ohio River is in navigable order for boats of light draught; 4 feet water.

Death of Mr Dunlap.—The Salem Commercial Advertiser, in noticing this melancholy event, gives the following brief sketch of the deceased:—

"Mr DUNLAP was born in this town in 1794. He was the son of Mr ——— Dunlap, a worthy and enterprising merchant, a native of Ireland, who in his early days emigrated to this country, became a citizen, and made choice of Salem for his home. The subject of this brief notice received his education immediately preparatory to an admission to Cambridge University under the private tuition of the lamented Dr BENTLEY. He was graduated in 1813. He was a class mate of the late Hon. WILLIAM THORNDIKE of Beverly, whose decease this community is still lamenting. Born in adjoining towns, passing their collegiate course together—both entered upon life at the same time, sought the same means of a livelihood and distinction in the same profession—both have received marked honors from the people or from those whom they vested with power—both felt obliged to resign posts, the one of high private, the other of high public trust, in consequence of disease—and returning to their native homes, where the tenderness and affection of the dearest friends might alleviate the pains of a sick bed, and smooth the pillow of death—both have been removed from life by the same disease within a few short days of each other, at an age, when their faculties were ripest, and their usefulness most extensive.

Mr Dunlap selected the profession of the Law, and in due time was called to the bar of Essex County.—This was at an exciting period in the history of our country, when every man was expected to enlist upon the one or the other side of the two great political parties which divided the nation. His partialities, his feelings, principles, his education and associations, all led him to espouse the Democratic side. And his talents and his services, young as he was, were deservedly held in such high estimation among his fellow citizens with whom he co-operated, that no honor or gift at their disposal but was liberally bestowed upon him.—Having practised law in Salem for several years, he was induced to remove to Boston, as affording a more ample field for the exercise of talents he peculiarly possessed. At the commencement of the present National Administration he was appointed to the office of U. S. District Attorney, the duties whereof he has discharged with impartial feeling and eminent ability, and his resignation was deeply regretted as a loss to the public in every quarter where his services had become known.

His death excites among us universal regret. This regret bears with it testimony of the high esteem with which he was held; all who knew him, and who among us did not know Andrew Dunlap, lament him with expressions of sorrow equally lively and sincere."

Severe Storm.—About five o'clock last Saturday afternoon, the gathering black clouds and distant roar of thunder indicated a severe storm. It soon broke over Northampton and deluged the town with rain, and filled the air with fragments of trees and foliage. It continued to rain and the wind to blow at intervals with great severity until evening, attended by powerful explosions of thunder and flashes of lightning. Some trees were prostrated and many large branches broken off and serious apprehensions were felt for the safety of some buildings. The steeple of the first church swayed back and forth like a young sapling. The wind at first was in the west but suddenly it wheeled round to the north and for a few seconds it was incredibly powerful. The crops have suffered severely, the wheat, rye and corn having been beaten down and twisted about like bulrushes.—Northampton Courier.

Another Alarming Diclosure.—A student of Amherst College, who has sustained a high reputation as a scholar, a very exemplary man and even a religious character and one of undoubted integrity, was detected last week in pilfering money from his class-mates.—From one individual he abstracted about $40 and since this disclosure, other cases of larceny have come to the light. We understand his name is Merrill, a member of the Sophomore Class and a native of Boston. He was a charity student, the son of an indigent widow, who was leaning upon this unworthy son to sustain her in her old age! Well may parents tremble when such unsuspecting depravity as this and that narrated by us last week comes to the light!—He absconded immediately and thus far has eluded all efforts at detection.—Northampton Courier.

A spirited horse, rode by a small boy, committed sundry extravagancies, in the neighborhood of Tammany, St John and Noble streets, on Saturday, that, unfornate for the noble fellow, terminated fatally. The horse usually kind and docile, became frightened and dashed into a house near Willow street, where he performed several unusual feats, and on being driven from the premises, ran furiously through several of the streets, and was finally spitted upon the end of a cart shaft, in St John street, above Willow. Running at the top of his speed, he came in contact with a cart shaft, in such a manner as to force the point of the shaft into his breast to a great depth, and with so much violence that he died instantly. The boy fortunately escaped.—Phil. U. S. Gaz.

A Pirate.—Captain Flinn, of the Hope's Retrive, arrived last evening from Malaga, states that when in lat. 30.49, lon. 35, on the 30th ult., his vessel was fired into by a brig showing Spanish colors. Hove the vessel to, and set our colors; and after remaining in that situation for fifteen or twenty minutes, they ordered the boat on board. The order was obeyed, when the Captain demanded where the vessel was from, and what composed the cargo. They took one barrel wine, one box lemons, one barrel of bread, and several boxes of raisins. Could not ascertain where she was from; had 25 men on deck, and one gun on a pivot amidships.—N. Y. Gaz.

Stung to death.—A laboring man named William Hawkins, died a short time since in Montreal, in consequence of a single sting received on his cheek, from some small venomous insect, two days previously.—Before medical advice was resorted to, breathing was obstructed, and the swelling had extended over the greater portion of the body. He expired in a most dreadful state of agony, and has left a wife and six young children.—N. Y. Sun.

Row—almost.—Whilst Mr M'Calla was delivering his Anti-Catholic lecture, at Julien Hall, on Wednesday evening, he was interrupted by a person present, and a general commotion was excited. During the excitement, a portion of the ceiling of the Hall fell, and a mass of plaster, weighing three or four pounds, struck a lady on the head, wounding her very severely. She was carried out, and the meeting broke up in great disorder before the lecture was finished.—Trans.

Railroads on Piles.—We believe it is not generally known at the North, except by those who have been on the Charleston and Augusta Railroad, that that work is, in a great part, constructed on piles driven into marshes, thus avoiding embankments, easily procuring long levels, and being withal exceedingly cheap—only $4,500 a mile, instead of $50,000.—N. Y. Star.

During the revolutionary war, thirteen brothers, sons of one woman, in Connecticut, each of them 6 feet high, all went into the war, and were all brave men. This, perhaps, is the most remarkable instance of the kind any country has produced. The name of this prolific and heroic family is Huntley.—Old paper.

Rather Tough.—It is published that one hotel in New Orleans, the American, pays $14,000 a year for mint to concoct into Julaps! That can't be swallowed here.—N. Y. Trans.

Did not arrive till 8 o'clock last evening.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM FRANCE.—12 HOURS LATER FROM ENGLAND.

We are indebted to Capt Macy, of the ship Champlain, for Havre papers to June 18th, and Paris to the 17th, containing London dates to the evening of the 12th.—Jour. Com.

The Moniteur contains officially the law for the payment of the American claims, agreeably to the votes of the two Chambers.

The Duke of Wellington has withdrawn his notice of a motion relative to Spanish affairs. Recruits for the Spanish service were enlisting in great numbers. The Moniteur contains a decree permitting French subjects to engage in the service of Spain, without being liable to the loss of any of their privileges. The two governments are evidently acting in concert, and with as much energy as the nature of the case will admit.

The trials before the Chamber of Peers go on, but it is thought will soon be abandoned. Some of the prisoners, especially Carrier, turns out to be men of unexceptionable probity and great bravery and humanity.

It is a fact that the Duke of Orleans has made all the preliminary arrangements for a union with the Princess of Wurtemburg. Her hand, however, has not yet been officially demanded.

Bilboa is said to have fallen into the hands of the Carlists;—that Burgos has proclaimed a republic;—and that a serious insurrection had taken place in Arragon in favor of the revolution of 1812. The funds experienced in consequence a slight abatement.

Havre Market, June 14.—Cotton.—The sales of the week have only amounted to 553 bales, of which 366 were Louisiana at 140 a 164 f—the market continues very calm, receipts 4362. Coffee, none but Hayti has been in demand, of that kind 3200 bags have been sold at 65f in entrepot. Indigo, a cargo of 2500 chests is expected from Calcutta. 3000 Rio hides sold at 55f. Rice is firm, the sales of new are at 27f. old 25f 25. 50 bbls Am. potashes 1835, sold at 38f 50 and 385 brs 1834, at 37f 50. Hops, 13 bales 1st sort sold at 120f free. Zinc, 100 mill sold at 17f 50 and it is now held at 18f.

Sales at Havre, June 17—50 bales Cotton, of which 16 were Louisiana, at 159f—2000 bales Hayti Coffee at 65f—40 mill whale oil 42f 50—40 bales Cloves at 1f 12 1-2.

Sales, 16th.—28 bales Louisiana Cotton at 157f 50; 33 do Georgia at 152f 50; 2000 bags Hayti Coffee at 65f; 300 do at 66½ a 67½; 2 mill Whalebone at 16f; 65 bags Para Cocoa at 47f ent.

Bordeaux, June 12.—There is nothing new in Coffee. Cotton is in good position, 220 bales Carolina sold at 147f 50.—Cocoa is in a precarious position.

Hamburgh, June 12.—Notwithstanding the holy days the demand for Coffee has been sustained and prices are higher; 8000 bags Brazil have sold during the week at 5⅜ a 6⅜; 3200 St Domingo at 5⅞ a 6½. Sugars firm; Cotton better held; Spices without change. Bills on Paris 2 mos. 183½.

From Bermuda.—Bermuda papers to the 21st inst. have been received at New York. The Governor has approved of the seizure and liberation of the slaves in the American schooner Enterprise, which put in there in distress, some months since. The bark Stag, of Boston, which was brought into St George's in distress, on her passage from Matanzas, sailed for her destined port of Hamburgh on the 16th inst. There has been a suspicious looking schooner cruizing in the neighborhood of these Islands for eight or nine days past.

Buenos Ayres.—By accounts by the Braganza, from this province, to the 9th of June, all was tranquil under the vigorous administration of Gov. De Rosas. Capt. Espiaux, of the French frigate Thisbe, died there May 17th. There had been another negro conspiracy at Bahia. Rio Grande appears disposed to revolt. The British sloop of war Acteon, Captain Lord Russell, arrived at Buenos Ayres May 21st, from Plymouth.—Eve. Star.

(Per the Wm. Gibbons at New York.)

The revenue cutter has returned to New Orleans from her cruise. She had a running fight with the Mexican armed schooner Montezuma—the latter running among the breakers off Brassoria. On landing, the boat's crew of the Ingham had some difficulty with those of the Montezuma. The Cutter had been despatched to watch slavers. On demanding the liberation of the passengers that had been imprisoned at Santiago, it was found they had been released some hours previously.

Several of the gamblers chased from Vicksburg and Natchez, Miss. have arrived at New Orleans. Several flat boats were passed on the river with the banished residents of Vicksburg and "Natchez under the Hill."

By an arrival from Matanzas at New Orleans we learn that 400 men had been ordered from Vera Cruz to Texas.

The Slave Insurrection.—At the latest dates, about 50 whites had been informed against as instigators of the insurrection, several of whom, together with a number of negroes, had been executed. Many others, of both colors, were expected to share the same fate, The discovery of several abolition tracts, it is said, first led to the apprehension of danger.

The N. Y. Evening Star says—"We understand that the Constitution Frigate is under orders to sail from here August 15th, under command of Com. Elliott."

Re-Turning Wit.—"Turning of all kinds done here," said the sign board of an industrious mechanic. "Ha! we'll try that," said Bob, stepping in and accosting the turner with—

"You do all kinds of turning here, do you, Mister?"

"Yes, sir, we turn any thing and every thing."

"Well, then turn me a somerset," says Bob, at the same time throwing one himself.

Anecdote.—Lord Mansfield, after the determination of some case, found reasons to alter his opinion in the directions he had given to the jury. Some time afterwards he saw one of the counsel to whose client his opinion had not been favorable, and desired him to make a motion for a new trial. Lord Mansfield was telling this circumstance one day to one of his brethren, who seemed rather astonished at the cool and easy manner in which he mentioned his change of opinion. "Why," said he, "after all, it is only showing the world that you are wiser to-day than you were yesterday."

Yankee.—Question.—You han't none of you seen nothing of no hat no where along here upon none of these seats, have you?

Answer.—We han't none of us, seen nothin of no hats nor nothin of no kind no where on none of these seats nor no where else as I knows on.

Political Mania among the Women.—A young woman was lately discoverd among the spectators at one of the sittings of the French House of Peers—disguised in man's clothes. She proved to be Madam Dudevant the celebrated authoress of Indiana, &c. This lady is possessed of great and fervid eloquence, and writes with force against what she considers the social and political tyranny of the other sex, in regard to the rights of women.

The revenue upon which Arkansas calculates in the event of her being admitted into the confederacy, is three millions of taxable lands, salt springs, lead mines, and per centage on sale of public lands.

CITY OF BOSTON.—An Ordinance further to provide for a system of accountability in the concerns of the City.

Sec 1. Be it ordained by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City of Boston, in City Council assembled, That it shall be the duty of the City Clerks, the Auditor of Accounts, the City Marshal, the Weighers of Hay, and the Superintendent of Burials, respectively to pay over to the City Treasurer as often at least as once in three months, all moneys which they shall receive belonging to the city, and that all other officers authorised to collect such moneys shall pay the same over to said Treasurer as soon as they be collected.

Sec 2. Be it further ordained, That it shall be the duty of the City Clerk, the Auditor of Accounts, the City Marshal, the Weighers of Hay, and the Superintendent of Burials, respectively, as early as may be in the months of February, May, August and November, in every year, to lay before the City Council a statement of the whole amount of moneys which shall have been received at their respective offices, during the three preceding months, specifying in detail the sums received from each source of income—they shall also report the amounts, if any, which remain due to the city and unpaid, and generally, any other information which they may possess, in relation to the said statement.

Sec 3. Be it further ordained, That it shall be the duty of the Auditor of Accounts to lay before the City Council annually in the month of May, a schedule of all the leases of city property, specifying severally the names of the lessees, the rates of rent, and the periods when the leases will terminate. He shall also in the month of February, annually, lay before said Council an estimate of the amount of money necessary to be raised for the ensuing year, under the respective heads of appropriation, and shall, on or before the first day of July annually, make and lay before said Council, a statement of all receipts and expenditures of the past financial year, giving in detail the amount of appropriation and expenditure for each specific object, the receipt from each source of income, and the operations of the Committee on the Reduction of the City Debt—the whole to be arranged, as far as practicable, to conform to the accounts of the City and County Treasurer, so that their coincidence may be apparent—and said statement shall be accompanied by a schedule of the property belonging to the City, and also by an exhibit showing the debts due by the City, the rates of interest thereon, and the years in which the same will become due. The Auditor shall also open an account with the Treasurer of the City, wherein said Treasurer shall be charged with the whole amount of taxes placed in his hands for collection, also the whole amount in detail of all bonds, notes, mortgages, leases, rents, interest and other sums receivable, in order that the value and description of all personal property belonging to the City may be at any time known at the office of the Auditor.

Sec 4. Be it further ordained, That there shall be annually appointed in the month of May, a joint Committee to consist of two on the part of the Board of Aldermen and three on the part of the Common Council, whose duty it shall be to examine, audit and settle the accounts of the City and County Treasurer for the preceding financial year—and said Committee shall not only compare said accounts with the vouchers thereof, but shall ascertain whether all sums due to the City have been collected and accounted for—they shall also examine the notes, bonds and other securities belonging to the City, and make a full and particular report of their proceedings to the City Council.

Sec 5. Be it further ordained, That the 6th section of "An Ordinance establishing a system of accountability in the expenditures of the city," be, and the same is hereby repealed—and that the eleventh section of "An Ordinance to provide for the care and management of the Public lands," be, and the same is hereby so far altered, as that the money, notes, bonds, mortgages and securities for moneys therein mentioned, shall, after being entered on the books of the Auditor of Accounts, be paid to and deposited with the City Treasurer.

In Common Council, June 4, 1835.

Passed, JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr. President.

In the Board of Aldermen, July 27, 1835.

Passed, THEODORE LYMAN, Jr. Mayor.

NEW ENGLAND CROWN GLASS.—The New England Crown Glass Company have recently erected a new furnace and are manufacturing an excellent article. Their Crown Glass is thick, pure and of excellent color. Its thickness gives it an advantage over all thin glass, which is liable to crack from contraction in cold weather. Its color is superior to any other glass. Its surface not being polished after being blown, retains its enamel, brilliancy and hardness, and is not liable to the objection which applies to Plate Glass, of being easily and permanently bedimmed by dust. Orders sent to the subscriber at Boston, or East Cambridge, or to any of the Company's Selling Agents, will be promptly attended to.

EXHIBITION OF STAINED GLASS.

WILLIAM REDDING respectfully announces to the public, that the numerous productions in the art of painting and staining on Glass, which has been his indefatigable employment for some few past years, will be exhibited to public inspection from 5 o'clock in the afternoon, to 10 in the evening, at the American Gallery of Fine Arts, in Summer street.

The subjects are mostly scriptural, and he trusts that but few, if any, but will be fully satisfied with this first display of what has been done on this side of the Atlantic in this beautiful and difficult art.

Admittance, 25 cents. july24

WILL CLOSE THIS EVENING.

DIXON & READ'S OXY-HYDROGEN MICROSCOPE, with a magnifying power of upwards of 6,000,000 times, is fitted up at Boylston Hall, where it may be seen for a short time.

It will exhibit its wonderful effects in developing the hitherto unknown creation. Here may be seen, in a single drop of water, as it were, monsters of the deep revelling in a vast ocean—and what appears to the naked eye but "as dust of the balance," is found teeming with life, in all the busy modes and variety of existence. Among the number of inanimate objects are some fine Anatomical Dissections, Stings, Trunks—Wings—Exuvia of Insects, Cutting of Wood, &c.

This instrument is not, like the Solar Microscope, dependent on the uncertain light of a cloudless sky, which but too often disappoints the anxious and expecting auditor, and must be seen in the day time, or not at all. The Oxy-Hydrogen Microscope, depending on Artificial Light, can be seen in the evening—a time better adapted to the man of business, as well as every other member of the community. Every object is most accurately defined, perfectly achromatic, and exhibited with a brilliancy not to be surpassed. The intense light produced by the combustion of these gases, affords a brilliancy equal to that of the Sun, and renders the Exhibition always certain.

Tickets of admission, 25 cents, to be had at the Bookstore of MARSH, CAPEN & LYON, and at 390 Washington st, opposite Boylston Hall.

☞ Now open. Exhibition to commence at 8 o'clock, PM. precisely, and to continue every evening in the week, (Saturday excepted.) jy27

FOSTER'S COMMERCIAL SCHOOL.

116 WASHINGTON STREET—(Over the Bookstore of Perkins, Marvin & Co.)

AT this institution the mercantile education of young gentlemen is completed in a superior and expeditious manner. Penmanship, Arithmetic and Book-keeping are taught on an original and improved plan, with particular reference to the business of the Counting house.

Foster's System of Rapid Writing is, in the highest degree, simple and effective—easily acquired and easily applied to practice. It presents no obstacles—the Clerk acquires a masterly use of the pen and reaps the benefit in an increased salary—the Book-keeper is taught a 'neat round hand,' which is an ornament to the Ledger—the Merchant is enabled to write with ease and freedom—and every person, with moderate application, may acquire a beautiful running hand.

Book-keeping is taught in a practical manner—the learner is exercised in buying and selling—in making out invoices and account sales—receiving and accepting bills—effecting insurance, and in keeping the Day-book, Journal and Ledger in the most approved forms. The subject of closing and re-opening books—balancing and adjusting individual and partnership concerns—equation of payments &c, is explained and illustrated—in short, an attempt will be made to teach whatever belongs to the well regulated Counting-house.

Classes, morning, afternoon and evening.—Blank Books, Pens, Ink and Paper, furnished without extra charge.

TERMS.—For a course of Lessons in Penmanship—in which the pupil is taught, upon simple and rational principles, to write a neat, rapid, business hand, so as to be easily acquired and permanently retained—$12

For a course of Lessons in Book-keeping, by Single and Double Entry—in which the pupil will open, post and balance two complete sets of books, and be qualified to act as Book-keeper in the most extensive and diversified establishment—$12.

For a course of Lessons in Commercial Calculations—by which those who have neglected their Arithmetic when young, may in a short time, acquire the most simple and expeditious methods of performing the various computations which occur in the business of the Counting-house—$10. eopis—jy29

NOTICE.

THE BOYDEN MALLEABLE CAST IRON AND STEEL COMPANY, having their Foundry at East Boston, now ready for operation, are prepared to furnish Malleable Iron Castings to order, to the amount of twenty tons per week. From the great perfection to which this art is now carried, they can confidently warrant their Castings to be of a superior quality to any heretofore made.

The Company request the attention of Manufacturers of Cotton, Woollen, and other machinery, to this valuable article—superior, for many uses in their line, to the best wrought Iron and Steel—and afforded at much less price.

Hardware Dealers, Platers and Carriage Builders, are notified, that by forwarding their orders, with a pattern or drawing or description of the article wanted, to the Company's Agents, they will be promptly supplied on liberal terms.

Pattern makers are employed by the Company, who will make Patterns of any description, on receiving the drawings and specifications.

L. B. GALE, M. D. M. M. S.—Would respectfully inform the citizens of Boston and vicinity that he has removed to No 2, Bowdoin square, where he will attend to the duties of his profession as a Surgeon and Physician; all Surgical Operations which are practicable in Europe or America will be performed. The hour devoted to the diseases of the Eye and Ear, will be in future from 12 to 1 o'clock. Beautiful Artificial Eyes imported from France, will be inserted and warranted. Dr Gale can be consulted until 10 o'clock in the evening, after which he will be at his residence, Temple street, No 74. eop6m¼is je2

ISAAC L. HILDRETH, Merchant Tailor, No 4 Roger's Buildings Congress Square, has just received some splendid cloths of superior quality and colours, consisting, in part of royal purple, dahlia, russel brown, and green, &c. &c. with a variety of other staple and fancy colours. Also, buck skin cassimeres, for pantaloons, a superb article, together with a general assortment of cassimeres and vestings of various colours and qualities of the latest style and variety of patterns. eotf¼is—m 31

THE BOSTON INDIA RUBBER FACTORY have taken a Warehouse at No 8 State street, where they now offer for sale such articles as are manufactured at their factory, consisting of as great a variety as at any other establishment in this city. All goods offered to the public at the above warehouse will be stamped with the factory's name, and warranted of the first quality—and in no case will higher prices be charged than at other establishments—the public are respectfully invited to call—purchasers from the south and west will find a good assortment adapted for their markets.

RICH MANTEL GRATES.—A superior article can be obtained at the Manufactory, No. 9 CONGRESS SQUARE, (up stairs). Gentlemen about furnishing their Parlours or Chambers with Grates, will do well before purchasing to call and examine the Grate manufactured at his Establishment.

GRATES made to order, at short notice.

Gentlemen who are building can be furnished with Grates of every variety, warranted inferior to none manufactured in the city. [my12—epis] BENJ'N. BLANEY.

AUCTION SALES.

IMPORTANT SALE

Of Mill Pond and other Lands, valuable Canal Wharves, Building Lots and Buildings fronting on the Public Square and Market Place by the City Hay Scales, and on Blackstone, Union, Canal, Charlestown, Haverhill, Merrimack, and Market streets, and a new street recently cut through for the termination of Tremont street with said square.

☞ Sale on Thursday, August 6, at ½ past 9 o'clock, A. M. on the premises, (unless previously disposed of,) viz:

A new and elegant circular front Building, just completed, at the junction of Union and Blackstone streets, and fronting on the Public Square, built entirely by the day in a most substantial and thorough manner, with the Quincy Granite and Baltimore Brick, which are of superior workmanship and color, the clay of unusual toughness and fineness, and which stood the test of the recent fire; the floors are of Southern hard pine, and [illegible] mortised and blind nailed; the sash doors and windows are mostly of plate glass, sashes of cherry wood and double hung, with iron window corners or stops—The locks were made expressly for the building—plastering finished with white ground marble—the stone walls are 2 feet; and the brick 16 inches thick, with iron shutters and safe in the end wall, and subterraneous vaults or safes of stone leading from the basement story, and an iron pillar to support a vault which may be placed in the second story. The Basement Store is floored with dressed stone—This building commands an extensive view of the city, the shipping, the Lowell Railroad, and the adjacent country, and fronting upon a square the largest in the city, and where great travel congregates from the various sections of the country and city, is a most desirable stand for any Mercantile business or for a Banking House and Insurance Company, which is wanted there to meet the extensive business done in that vicinity.

Also—the MECHANICS' INN, so called, nearly opposite the above. This building is vacant, having been damaged by the recent fire. It is a first rate stand to repair, as it now is, or to enlarge and improve upon. The ground forms an L of — feet on Blackstone and — feet on Cross street, facing upon the Square—or in connexion with the neighboring lots a company or capitalist might build an extensive Hotel and Stables, to be denominated the Blackstone House,—a more eligible location is not to be found, or one where the wants of the Public more loudly call for.

Also—4 Lots on Charlestown street, Nos. from 22 to 25, fronting on said Square about 80 feet, and looking down on the Canal, Rail Road, and Haverhill street to Warren Bridge. These Lots contain about 9,500 feet and Lot 35 Pond street, in the rear of the above, 20 by 95, 1 900 feet, which will give an entrance for some large establishment from street to street, or Hotel and stables.

Also—Lot No. 29, corner of Charlestown and Stillman street 25 feet 1 inches by 95 feet—2,406¼ feet.

Also—a large Lot, 177 feet on Charlestown street, and fronting the Square, by 70 feet deep, 12,390 feet, and bounded the other sides by Stillman and Cooper streets and Stillman place. A most valuable lot to use whole, having a street on all sides—or it may be cut up to suit purchasers.

Also—the whole extent of Wharf property on the South side of the Canal, between Causeway street and Market street or Market square, being about 800 feet long on a Canal of 60 feet wide and a street of 50 feet wide. This Wharf or Landing is about 20 feet wide. This Wharf cannot be built upon, but commands the Wharfage for the Lots upon the whole length of Canal street, and must produce a very great income when Stores shall be erected upon said Lots;—nor can the Canal be filled up without the consent of the owner of this Wharf and his proportion of Flats. This property may be sold all together or may be cut up to suit purchasers.

Also—6 Lots of Land, fronting on said Canal street, Nos. 106 to 111, each 28 feet front by 72 feet 6 inches deep, that is 2030 feet each.

Also—2 Lots fronting on Friend street, same size, subject to Lease of — years, and having large Buildings thereon, belonging to the Lessee.

Also—2 small Lots, on the Northerly side of the Canal, bounded by the Canal and Haverhill street, one of 20 feet front and rear, the other 27 feet 9¾ inches.

Also—a large three story, circular Brick Building, with granite posts and caps, bounded by Market street, Portland and Merrimac streets, opposite the Warren Hotel, and opening upon the Public Square—might easily be finished for some public use.

Also—a triangular lot of Land, with a Grocery Store, standing upon a part of it, opposite the City Hay Scales, and bounded by Friend and Merrimac streets, and a new street recently cut through by the city for the termination of Tremont street.

Also—a small Lot of Land adjoining the new Building advertised above, fronting on Blackstone and Union streets.

Also—several Brick Houses near the City Hay Scales, worth from $2500 to $5500.

Most of the above lots have been selected by the subscriber during a series of years, in the most choice and conspicuous locations, and although urged to sell, most of them have never before been offered to the public. It is believed they combine more advantages than any lands of equal value that have been or will again be offered for sale these many years—located as they are, at the very junction of the travel from the Eastern country, the North and the West, the Canal and the Railroad, and in front of the square laid out and given for a public market.

☞ The terms will be 1-3 cash for the Buildings and Wharves, and 15 per cent cash for the lots on delivery of the deeds, and 10 per cent in 60 days; the residue in three equal annual payments with interest semi-annually. Notes secured by Mortgages on the premises.

ESSEX DYE HOUSE.—JOHN G. BITTNER, Silk, Cotton, Linen and Woollen Dyer, would inform his friends and the public generally of Boston, Lynn and Salem, that he has taken a stand in Centre street, Lynn, where he will Dye and Finish in the best manner, the following articles, viz—broadcloths—cassimeres—satins—lustrings—crapes—silk and cotton velvets—worsted cords—camel's hair shawls—hosiery and gloves—plush—ribbons &c—also, lace veils—leghorn and straw bonnets—ostrich and other feathers. Ladies and gentlemen's woollen garments, such as dress coats—great coats and frock coats—surtouts—vests and pantaloons—ladies' habits—cloaks &c, dyed and pressed, so as to appear like new, without being ripped.

J. G. B. would give further notice, that he cleanses and finishes Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments of every description, without ripping, in a style heretofore unknown to the public; also, military garments, that are spoiled by sweat or gunpowder, can be restored to their original color, without injury to the cloth. Merino and Cashmere Shawls cleansed without injury to the borders—Carpets—woollen Table Cloths &c.

J. G. B. having had upwards of 17 years' experience in the above business, is confident that he can give undoubted satisfaction. Those that favor him with their custom may depend upon having their work done with despatch, in the best possible manner, and on the most reasonable terms. He asks a share of that patronage which he is determined to merit.

MASSACHUSETTS BOTANIC INFIRMARY —Or, Thomsonian Hospital—for the reception of the sick and lame, situated on the bank of the Boston and Worcester Railroad, No 554 Washington st, with a view of the Railroad and surrounding country on the West, and Boston Harbour, its shipping and Islands on the East. The Infirmary has been additionally fitted up in a style not surpassed by any other in the State, for convenience and comfort. The Rooms spacious and airy; the Prospect on the East and West very pleasant. The whole establishment will be under the personal care of Dr J. A. Brown, formerly of the Tremont Infirmary and for some years past Botanic Physician in the city, during which time he attended or prescribed for several thousand persons, to whom Patients can be refered for further information.

P. D. BADGER, a Proprietor, who has had considerable acquaintance with the system, will superintend the male department, together with other faithful and experienced assistants. The female department will be under the immediate superintendence of Mrs. Brown, as formerly, assisted by Mrs Badger; who has for a considerable time been in the Massachusetts General Hospital, and pronounced by Dr. Warren the best nurse he ever had. But from seeing the good effects of the Vegetable medicine in restoring a child given up to die, has for several years past had considerable experience in the Thomsonian system of practice.

The subscribers pledge themselves that nothing shall be wanting on their part to make all who may favor them with a call, both comfortable and perfectly satisfied.

The price will be the same as heretofore, to be paid in advance, with fifty per cent discount, to such as are really objects of charity.

All charges for attendance will be refunded where the medicine does not operate as recommended.

J. A. BROWN,
m13 P. D. BADGER.

NATHANIEL P. SNELLING respectfully gives notice to his friends and the public generally, that he is now prepared to execute any orders in the line of his profession at the shortest notice and in the most workmanlike manner, having made extensive alterations by the addition of the store adjoining, and other improvements, which will enable him to conduct a genteel Tailoring Establishment on the most extensive scale, and by strict attention to his calling, at least to merit a share of public patronage. Having made arrangements with Merchant Tailors in New York and Philadelphia to transmit immediately on arrival the London Fashions, which will enable gentlemen to furnish themselves in the first style, and sooner than can be procured in any other establishment in this city.

N. P. S. has just received from New York a splendid assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, and Fancy Vesting. Gentlemen are requested to call and examine for themselves, particularly some splendid Cloths and London Quiltings.

N. P. S. continues the agency of Tailors' Chalk, an article well known by the trade as being well adapted to drawing lines on stuffs, and is easily erased.

Also, a large assortment of Tape Measures, some of them a first rate article, which is much wanted by the trade in general.

PURE BEAR'S OIL may be had by the groce, dozen or single bottle, of A. BOYDEN, Hancock-st.

As in all cases, so especially in this, Venders, if they wish to secure the patronage of the public, should be extremely cautious not to sell an article for the Hair which tends to counteract rather than assist nature,

The virtues of Bear's Oil have been too long tested to need any eulogium; and at this time no one can doubt of its being the very best article for strengthening and promoting the growth of the Hair. An honest prejudice against the use of Bear's Oil has long existed, arising from two causes—the improper method of purifying it, and the imposition upon the public of a spurious article. That this prejudice may be wholly removed, this article now offered is warranted the pure Oil, rendered more pleasant by the addition of a little perfume—and the possibility of its injuring the Hair is entirely precluded by the manner in which it has been purified. To prevent fraud, the genuine is enclosed in two wrappers, the inside one being signed Arnold Boyden. aug 15

DR. CERLIEU'S CELEBRATED OINTMENT—A sovereign remedy for the Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Leprosy and all other Cutaneous complaints. These dreaded diseases, which are met with so much reluctance by the physician and in which he is so universally unsuccessful, have at length found a certain remedy in Dr Cerlieu's Ointment. This article has stood the test of experience and justly gained unexampled celebrity. It has in three or four weeks cured cases of more than thirty years standing, which baffled the art of the most experienced physicians and resisted the power of every other remedy that could be devised. It immediately removes the scab of the skin, and restores its original color and smoothness.

MAN'S GREATEST AND BEST EARTHLY TREASURE—HEALTH PRESERVED—OR LOST, RESTORED—SEARS'S AMERICAN HYGIENE VEGETABLE RENOVATING PILLS, are now offered, for the benefit of the public, by the Author, under an honest persuasion, that the certificates of their efficacy and effects; and the references and testimony respecting his own reputation and character, will secure for them public confidence. They have been the result of much research and experiment, occasioned by unusual sufferings from Dyspepsia and a diseased liver for 20 years. During a considerable part of this period, it has been to me an object of anxious solicitude, to discover some preparation of medicine better calculated to relieve me of my sufferings, than any I had heretofore used. And after many experiments in Materia Medica; and, among the vegetables of our country, I have succeeded in preparing a medicine, purely and entirely vegetable, which does in an eminent degree, answer that important and desirable object. Their effect is to excite and sustain a natural peristaltic action in the stomach and intestines, and to produce a discharge from them of all the morbid and bilious matter which they contain; and also to remove biliary obstructions, and promote and sustain the natural secretions of the liver. Hence they are peculiarly efficacious in curing all diseases, originating from a disordered state of the stomach and bowels; such as Indigestion, Costiveness, Bilious Cholic, Nervous and Sick Headache, Hypocondria, Yellow and Black Jaundice, Cholera Morbus, Cutaneous Eruptions, Erysipelas, Heartburn, Soreness of Stomach, and General Debility. Their efficacy has been fairly and abundantly tested by my own experience and that of many others. They may, with perfect safety, be taken by both sexes, of all ages, in cases of indisposition; and they are peculiarly effectual in liver complaints. In offering them to the public, I pledge my reputation and character, that a perfect trial of their effects will satisfy them of their superior excellency. In regard to my reputation and character, I have permission to refer to the Right Rev Bishop Onderdonk and the Rev Dr Spring, of New York; and I would also present the two following certificates from the Hon John W. Taylor, and the Hon Judge S. Young, of Ballston Spa, whose characters are well known to the public:—

"I certify that I have been well acquainted with William Sears, now of the village of Ballston Spa, for more than thirty years. He has through life maintained a fair reputation. His character for truth and general integrity stands high. Indeed I have never heard it impeached. JOHN W. TAYLOR.

Ballston Spa, Oct. 6th, 1834."

"I have known Mr William Sears for more than thirty years, having resided most of that time in the same town with him, and during that period he has sustained a character without reproach. S. YOUNG.

Oct 8, 1834."

Extract from a certificate of Mr James Comstock, editor of the Ballston Spa Gazette—"For several years past Mrs Comstock has been afflicted with an unusually obstinate Dyspepsia, attended with a great degree of acidity of the stomach, and redundancy of bile. For several months past she has taken Sears's A. H. V. Renovating Pills, and has experienced more benefit from them than she has ever received from any medicine. I can with confidence recommend them to the public

JAS. COMSTOCK."

Extract from a certificate of Mrs Powel, wife of the Hon. Judge Powel, of Saratoga county—"For many years past I have been afflicted with the symptoms of a liver complaint, which have frequently been attended with a pain in my side, so severe as to confine me. About three months since I commenced taking Sears's A. H. V. Renovating Pills, which have greatly relieved me, and rendered unnecessary the use of any other medicine. I do highly esteem them, and recommend them to all who are afflicted as I have been, with a liver complaint. ANN POWEL.

VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM, is the most valuable remedy now in use for coughs, colds, asthma or phthisic, whooping cough and pulmonary affections of every kind. Its sale is steadily increasing and the proprietors are constantly receiving the most favorable account of its effects. The following new certificates are offered for public examination.

From Dr Samuel Morrill to the Proprietors of the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam.

I am satisfied that the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam is a valuable medicine. It has been used in this place with complete success in an obstinate complaint of the lungs, attended with a severe cough, loss of voice, and the raising of much blood, which had previously resisted many approved prescriptions. After using the Balsam one week, the patient's voice returned, and he was enabled to speak audibly. This case occurred some time since, and the man is now engaged not only in active but laborious business.

Respectfully yours &c, SAMUEL MORRILL, M. D.

Concord, N. H. Jan 30, 1832.

From Mr Samuel Everett.

In October 1830, I was attacked with a cough accompanied with a severe pain in the side and difficulty of breathing. I resorted to several remedies but without effect. In January 1831, I was attended by a skilful physician, and subsequently received the advice of several others—but the disease steadily increased; the cough was incessant, attended with a bloody and offensive expectoration; my flesh was wasted, my feet swollen and my strength extremely reduced. In April my case seemed utterly hopeless—I was told by my physicians that medicine could be of no further service to me, and it was not expected by any of my friends that I could survive a month. In this situation my daughter procured a bottle of the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam, (which she had heard highly recommended for similar complaints,) and prevailed on me to make trial of it. Its use was attended with the most unexpected and happy result. It gave me immediate relief and one bottle effected a cure. I have since been free from pain in the side and cough, except in the case of common colds.

Boston, March 1, 1832. SAMUEL EVERETT.

☞ Particular Caution. Each genuine bottle is enclosed in a blue wrapper, on which is a yellow label signed SAMPSON REED.  None other can be genuine. The great celebrity of the genuine V. P. Balsam has been the cause of attempts to introduce spurious articles, which by partially assuming the name of the genuine, are calculated to mislead the public. Among these spurious mixtures are the 'American Pulmonary Balsam,' 'Vegetable Pulmonary Balsamic Syrup,' &c. †‡† Purchasers should inquire for the true article by its whole name, and see that it has the marks and signature of the genuine.

TO INVALIDS.—DR. RICHARDSON, of South Reading, Mass. (in compliance with the solicitations of his numerous friends) has consented to offer the public his celebrated Vegetable Bitters and Pills, which he has used in his extensive practice in Boston and its vicinity, for more than thirty years. The unexampled celebrity which they have obtained, will preclude the necessity of all eulogy with regard to their merit.

No. 1, are recommended to Invalids of either sex, afflicted with any of the following complaints: Dyspepsia, Sinking, Faintness, Sensation of Weight, Fullness ro Burning in the Stomach, Eructations, Irregular Appetite, Dizziness or Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Wandering Pains, Flatulency and Billious Complaints. They operate by imparting strength and vigor to the whole system.

No. 2, is designed for the cure of that class of inveterate diseases which arise from an impure state of the Blood, and exhibit themselves in the forms of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Leprosy, St Anthony's Fire, Scald Head in children, and other cutaneous diseases. It is an excellent remedy for Females afflicted with a sore mouth while nursing.

Plain and practical directions accompany the above Vegetable Medicines, and they may be taken without hindrance of business or amusement, with the common restraints of moderation and regularity in diet.

Observe that none are genuine without the written signature of N. RICHARDSON & SON, on the outside printed wrapper.

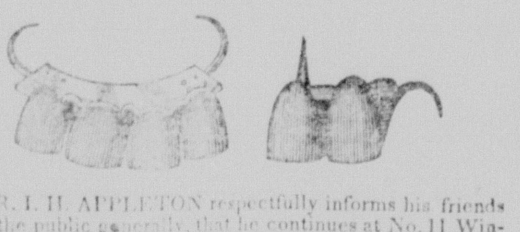
Operations on the Teeth.



DR. I. H. APPLETON respectfully informs his friends and the public generally, that he continues at No. 11 Winter-street, Boston, where he is prepared to perform all the operations of DENTAL SURGERY; viz. removing tartar and discolorations from the teeth, restoring diseased and spongy gums to a healthy state, cleansing and removing caries from decayed teeth, and filling them with gold, so as to render them as useful as before, and no more liable to decay than those that are perfectly sound.

He also attends to the making and inserting of all kinds of Artificial Teeth.

☞ PORCELAIN, or INCORRUPTIBLE TEETH inserted on gold plates, from one to a full set, in the most approved manner.

Having for more than fifteen years devoted himself to the profession, he confidently believes he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who may favor him with their patronage.

He begs leave to inform the public that he has availed himself of the services of a skilful and scientific gentleman from Philadelphia, to assist him in his operations.

Dr. A. has prepared and used, for more than fifteen years, the COLUMBIAN LOTION, which has been proved by hundreds of individuals, and is highly recommended by eminent Physicians of this city, to be an effectual remedy for counteracting the pernicious effects of calomel, unpleasantness of breath, spongy or inflamed gums, and other diseases of the mouth.

He prepares also the COLUMBIAN TOOTH POWDER, for diseased teeth and gums, and the PEARL DENTIFRICE, for purifying the breath and whitening the teeth, and constantly keeps on hand an assortment of Tooth and Sponge Brushes of his own selecting.

A. JONES'S VEGETABLE HAIR OIL, for Restoring Hair on Bald Heads, strengthening and fortifying the Roots against the causes which operate so powerfully in their decay and destruction.

This VEGETABLE OIL possesses very peculiar nourishing properties, which are imparted to the roots of the hair with a very few applications.

It causes the hair to grow on heads that have been entirely bald for years, with astonishing rapidity.

This important discovery, from the Vegetable Kingdom, prevents the hair from falling off with five or six applications—keeps it lively and healthy—frees it from scurf and dondroff—prevents it from turning grey, and when it begins to turn, will restore it to its original beauty and lustre by continuing the use of the Oil.

The fragrance of this Oil is without exception and ladies and gentlemen of the first respectability have used it and approved of it, and prefer it to any other for perfuming, curling and keeping the hair moist and glossy.

The growth of hair on children is much facilitated by the use of this Oil.

It is decidedly superior to any other article in the United States, and the proprietor has put it up in bottles containing a sufficiency to produce an effect of restoring hair on any head, or of satisfying any person of its salutary effects.

This Oil will cause Whiskers to grow in a very short time. It is universally approved of wherever it has been used, and will stand upon its own merits unrivalled.

The Proprietor has numerous testimonials, from Gentlemen and Physicians of high respetability, on the bill around each bottle, with particular directions for using it—also the proprietor's name in his own hand writing.

PATENT FEATHER DRESSING.—The subscriber having the right of Reynolds's Patent Machine for Dressing old and new Feathers, for the State of Massachusetts, and having put it in operation, he is ready to receive orders from any who may favor him with a call.

The operation of the machine produces the following effect: new feathers are dried of their excessive moisture and purified of their disagreeable and unpleasant odor. The same results are effected on old feathers, and besides they are restored to their original liveliness, even after they have been long compressed together and rendered exceedingly uncomfortable for repose. They are also thoroughly cleaned of all the dirt, perspiration, and pestiferous gasses, which feathers long used must have imbibed, which cannot be otherwise than injurious to health, and which has never failed to excite the wonder of those who have witnessed the result.

As this is the first machine of the kind ever put in operation in the United States, which has been highly recommended by physicians and others in all places where it has been established, the subscriber feels confident it will receive immediate attention from all lovers of health, comfort and economy. The operation of dressing the feathers is simple and may be witnessed by any who are disposed to call at the shop, No 102 Cambridge street, where the machine is in successful operation.

Feathers to be dressed can be sent and returned again in the tick, without the owner's being to the inconvenience of exchanging them. Those who wish can have their beds dressed and returned again the same day they are delivered, provided the work be engaged a short time previous.

N. B.—The operation of the machine does not break or otherwise injure in the least the feathers, nor does it effect any waste of them—nothing being removed except dirt, dampness, &c. If the work is not done as recommended, there will be no charge.

☞ Any one wishing to purchase the right of the machine, either for the city or country, will please to call. All feather dealers would find it much to their advantage to have one of said machines. All orders punctually attended to.

BURNS AND SCALDS.

A POSITIVE CURE.

ANTI-PHLOGISTIC PASTE, for Burns and Scalds, Erysipelas and Phlegmonous Inflammation, St Anthony's Fire, Erythema, Shingles, Stings and bites of Insects, Inflamed Blisters, Vegetable Poisons, Chapped Hands, &c.—Fever Sores, (Necrosis) Biles, Inflamed Breasts, Whitlow, Abscesses, Carbuncles, Gangrene, &c.; Sore Legs, Ulcers of every description, Schirrous Tumors and Glands Bruises and Sprains—Fractures, Contused and Lacerated Wounds—every grade of Gunshot Wounds. It is sure to give immediate relief, and a healthy action to the living parts, and we can hardly conceive of a fracture or wound so bad as to cause death, or need amputation, if the Paste be timely and properly applied. All inflammations of a specific character, as Scrofulous Tumors, Glands, Ulcers, and Abscesses—White Swellings, and Inflamed Joints, from any cause.

Scrofulous Humors, and every other species of Eruptions, as Salt Rheum, Herpes, Scalded head, Ringworm, Pimpled Face and Blotches. It is a specific for the Piles, giving immediate relief. Local Syphilitic Inflammation it is sure to remove, and prevent suppuration in the worst cases.

In all the above diseases the Paste has but one action, which is the removal of heat, pain, swelling, and more or less of fever—when this is done, nature soon finishes the cure, or the diseased parts become well simultaneously. It needs no certificates—use it, and you will know more of it than can be told you.

POSITIVE, OR NO PAY.—Mrs. Hill's Cough Drops, or Vegetable Health Restorative.—Prepared entirely from Vegetables.

More than forty years have now elapsed since the receipt was given me by my uncle, a celebrated Physician, at a time that I was troubled with a very bad cough and cold. After taking one dose, I found immediate relief, and a few doses cured me entirely; the effects were astonishing quick, and the numerous instances of the wonderful efficacy of these drops on different people, has induced me to put them up in Phials, with directions, under the impression it would be a public benefit. And as that is my sole aim—and to convince the public that is all, and as a sure guarantee against quackery and deception, I authorise my agents to return the money to all those that do not get relief by their returning the bottle and directions. The relief and absolute cure, particularly of these numerous and complicated disorders arising from neglected colds, is amply attested by the acknowledged approbation of those who are now restored to perfect health, as well as many in the decline of life who frankly acknowledge having received great relief from the use of them in the following diseases, viz—Coughs, colds, asthma, spitting of blood, hooping cough, difficulty of breathing, influenza, quinsea, phthisic, croup, and all disorders arising from colds.
